Celebrating Fair Housing, the Cornerstone of Equity in Housing Opportunity

2025 Commemoration of Fair Housing Month

Produced by Dayton REALTORS® and the Miami Valley Fair Housing Center
Sinclair Conference Center 444 West Third Street, Dayton, OH 45402

The Fair Housing Act works to ensure equity-focused living by prohibiting housing discrimination and promoting equal access to housing opportunities. This theme emphasizes the Fair Housing Act's promise that all people have a chance at the American dream, regardless of their race, color, national origin, sex, religion, familial status, or disability, age, source of income status, marital status, sexual orientation, and gender identity/expression. It highlights 21st Century diversity goals of local, state, and national housing trade organizations to achieve diverse and sustainable communities free from discrimination by leveraging the talents of every individual and providing equity-based opportunities in the housing market.

The day begins at 8:30 AM with an interactive fair housing seminar accredited for continuing education: Fair Housing and Equity Focused Homeownership. This workshop will feature National Fair Housing Alliance staff: Vice President of Housing and Community Development, Shanti Abedin and Housing and Community Development Program Analyst, Andrea Lau. Other speakers are: Netta Whitman, Director of Housing Advisory Services for a Homeport, a non-profit housing developer based in Columbus, Ohio, and Anita Schmaltz, Director of the HomeOwnership Center, a program of County Corp located in Montgomery County, Ohio. A luncheon follows the morning activities with the Marie Kindrick Service Awards and a keynote speaker.
